A lamp made from a washing machine drum , a stool made from scrap wood; designer Willem Heffer spots the design potential in everyday waste objects and sets out to give them a stylish new purpose. Heffer recently completed a beautiful new office for Mandala , a Helsinki-based travel agent and tour operator that offers a wide range of active holidays and adventure tours around the world. A long plywood table in front of the window is lit by upcycled drum lamps that are powder coated in the travel agency's signature colors. The table's clamp-on legs makes it easy to ship, store, and assemble at various trade shows.
